

MAKE AN IMPACT: Close the justice gap and work with low-income clients who really need you. Pro bono work need not be a significant time commitment. You will use your education to help those who face difficulty navigating the legal system alone.

SKILL BUILDING: Work with real-world clients and get the safety net of both mentorship by more experienced lawyers, and malpractice insurance coverage; some pro bono experiences can lead to you developing a practice in a particular area of law.

WORK EXPERIENCE: Get in the courtroom, get to be a lawyer right away, regardless of employment status: even if you do not have a job, you can hit the ground running using your legal skills and develop practical experience.

EXPANDING HORIZONS: Learn other areas of law; represent people you would not regularly meet or represent. Work with clients more quickly as a new lawyer.

NETWORKING: Meet public interest groups, other lawyers, as well as the judiciary. Get involved in the courthouse and build a reputation for yourself.

RECOGNITION: Be recognized by your peers and various outlets during several pro bono service awards and public interest awards for your dedication to serving others.

SATISFACTION: Feel good! Most lawyers say their pro bono cases are their most rewarding and they feel good about making such a difference. They also believe it is their obligation as a licensed lawyer to ensure that the system works for all.

INTERESTED IN LEARNING HOW TO SERVE PRO BONO?

Take a webcast or training through Pro Bono Resource Center of Maryland (PBRC), OR volunteer for one of our legal clinics:

For More Information, VISIT: www.probonomd.org
OR Email Annie Brinkmann Speedie, at aspeedie@probonomd.org

